FIERCE AIR BATTLES OVER SICILIAN AERODROMES

Enemy Lose 44 Fighters On Sunday

Allied Headquarters in North Africa (Monday):—To-day's communique states: "Enemy aerodromes in Sicily were heavily attacked yesterday. They included Sardinia, Gerbini and Sciacca, Comiso and Milo. The enemy resisted determinedly in fierce air battles. At least 43 enemy fighters were destroyed.

On Saturday night, our bombers attacked the Sicilian towns of Trapani and Comiso and coastal targets near Rome. Another enemy aircraft was destroyed during Saturday night by aircraft of the coastal airforce. Our losses were 13 aircraft."

Enemy Fighters Destroyed

VALETTA (Malta).—A R.A.F. communique says: "On Sunday, our Spitfires escorted bombers of the United States army air force in bombing missions on Sicily. In combats the Spitfires destroyed six enemy fighters. Three of our aircraft are missing."

ROME: Monday's Italian communique reports that Catania, Sciacca and small localities in Sicily and district of Cagliari (Sardinia) were raided by Allied planes on Sunday.

CAIRO (Monday): To-day's Middle East communique reports that "formations of R.A.F. heavy bombers attacked the railway yards of Catania in Sicily during the night of July 3/4. Bursts were seen to the north of the harbour.

ROUND-THE-CLOCK OFFENSIVE

ALGIERS (Monday): An American broadcast stated: "Heavy round-the-clock offensive by America and British bombers, on Sunday, battered Sicily's air bases and knocked 44 enemy planes out of the sky, in the fiercest air combat we have had over one area, since the end of the Tunisian campaign. The Fortresses delivered a smashing blow at an airfield near Catania and 56 fighters were shot down. Sicily probably never had such a serious pasting as this one.

DAMAGE TO COLOGNE CATHEDRAL

STOCKHOLM: The damage to the Cologne Cathedral is insignificant. According to a statement made by its architect to a reporter of "Volkischer Beobachter." Only one bomb exploded outside the Cathedral and one inside. A blaze made a hole in the roof causing slight damage. The nave is practically undamaged, and the north tower is damaged only slightly.

MALTA, AS SPRINGBOARD ?

London: According to despatches reaching Stockholm from Berlin, the Axis Commands believe that the Allies have chosen Malta as the springboard for an attack on Sicily.—Reu.

44 PLANES SHOT DOWN ON SUNDAY

From Reuter's Special Correspondent at Algiers, "In the fiercest air fighting yet seen over Axis targets in the Mediterranean since the height of the Tunisian campaign, American bombers and fighters over Catania and Gerbini on the coast of Sicily on Sunday shot down 38 German and Italian fighters. Five more were shot down over Comiso and Sciacca airfield. A lone plane brought down off the North African coast by a Beaufighter increased the total loss of enemy aircraft yesterday to 44 against a loss of 16 American planes.

U-Boat Installations And Aircraft Factory Bombed

LONDON, July 4.

Large formations of Flying Fortresses attacked the German aircraft factory at Lemans, repair shops at Nantes and U-Boat installations at Lapallice in daylight to-day, states a "communique".

Fortresses destroyed a number of German fighters, the "communique" adds.

R. A. F. Dominion and Allied fighter squadrons covered the withdrawal of one of the bomber formations and destroyed two German fighters. Eight bombers are missing.

R. A. F. Mitchell bombers attacked marshalling yards at Amiens this afternoon.

Amiens is an important link in the transport service of the occupying forces in Western France, says an official statement which adds that clouds dust from sheds and other places in the yard showed where bombs had hit. Spitfires which escorted bombers destroyed two Focke-wulfs and damaged other German fighters.

AMIENS RLY. YARDS HIT

While Mitchell bombers were attacking railway yards at Amiens this afternoon, other R. A. F. planes carried out sweeps over Northern France, it is officially announced to-night. Four R. A. F. planes are missing.—

6,000 PEOPLE HOMELESS IN COLOGNE

A German broadcaster to-night said that troops were still busy tracing bombs which had failed to explode in Cologne after last night's raid.

Another commentator over the German Radio said "Neumarket is one of the worst damaged parts of Cologne. There is hardly a house left which has not been damaged. The number of the homeless is very great. Five thousand to six thousand people are being fed daily in one meal centre alone. Special lorries are cruising in the city providing people, and particularly children with clothes and other necessities".—Reuter.

Raids On Crete Airfields

"All Our Patrols Withdraw Safely", Says Allied Communique

CAIRO, July 5:—It is officially announced that small British land forces carried out raids on airfields in Crete last night.

A special communique issued on Monday night says: "Small British land forces carried out raids on airfields in Crete last night. The operations were successful and enemy aircrafts destroyed on the ground. All our patrols withdrew safely."

LONDON, July 5: British land forces in the Mediterranean theatre on Sunday night struck their first blow since the fall of Pantelleria and the other so-called island outposts descending Italy. They carried out raids on airfields in Crete, it is officially announced from Cairo; but whether these small patrols were landed from the sea or by the air is not revealed in the communique. "All our patrols withdrew safely" is no doubt deliberately cryptic the way the communique puts it. Before doing so they had destroyed a number of Axis aircraft on the ground. This spectacular raid was made two years after the Allied forces withdrawal from Crete under assaults from massed divebombers, following the German conquest of Greece.

Bengal Assembly:

Huq Charges Bengal Governor With Partisanship

Differences Over Action In Connection With August Disturbances

CALCUTTA, July 5.

The Bengal Legislative Assembly met for a short session this afternoon. Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq, who had held the office of Chief Minister of Bengal, for the last six years, but who resigned office in the last session, sat in the Opposition as its leader. The other front-bench Opposition members were Dr. Shyama Prosad Mookerjee, leader of the Hindu Nationalist Party, Mr. Santosh Kumar Basu, leader of the unofficial Congress Party and Mr. Shamsuddin Ahmed, leader of the Krishak Proja Party, all of them members of the last Ministry.

After question time, Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq, ex-Chief Minister, and three of his colleagues in the last Cabinet, Mr. Santosh Kumar Basu, Mr. P. N. Banerjee and Mr. Shamsuddin Ahmed asked leave of the House to make statements regarding the circumstances connected with their resignations. A long discussion followed on the point whether they should be allowed to make their statements.

On behalf of Government, Khwaja Sir Nazimuddin, Chief Minister, objected to such statements being allowed to be made, stating that the rules of business of the House allowed an individual Minister who had resigned to make a statement in explanation of the resignation but it did not cover the present case where an entire Cabinet had resigned.

Allowing the ex-Ministers to make their statements, the Speaker, Mr. Syed Nausher Ali, said that he did not think that the rules of business of the House warranted any conclusion that when an entire Ministry had resigned members of the Ministry would have no right to make any personal statement.

HUQ'S CHARGE AGAINST GOVERNOR

In his statement on the events that led to his resignation, Mr. Fazlul Huq charged Sir John Herbert, Governor of Bengal, with partisanship and violation of his instrument of instructions. At the outset, Mr. Huq said that the Secretary of State for India had stated in Parliament that Mr. Huq's resignation had occurred in the course of procedure under provincial representative institutions. The language used by the Secretary of State was mysterious, if not meaningless. He (Mr. Huq) sent a telegram to the Secretary of State definitely protesting against his incorrect version of events and requesting him to ascertain facts before he publicly committed himself to any account of what had taken place. He also sent a telegram to the Viceroy urging him to cable correct facts to the Secretary of State for India. To this he received a reply that the Governor had been in communication with the Secretary of State and with regard to variations between Mr. Huq's version and that of the Governor, the Secretary of State felt satisfied that the version of the Governor was correct.

Had India been a free country and this Assembly a real Parliament with sovereign powers, said Mr. Fazlul Huq, Sir John Herbert would long ago have been recalled to milder climate to spend his talents on less pretentious avocations than the Governorship of the premier province of India.

OBSTRUCTIVE POLICY

After narrating the circumstances leading to the formation of his Cabinet in 1941, Mr. Fazlul Huq said that after they came into office "Sir John Herbert was not only unsympathetic but in many cases positively obstructive. We felt his interference and obstruction in matters of day-to-day administration so keenly that we apprehended that we were heading towards a crisis.

RESIGNATION LETTER

Dealing with what he called "the circumstances under which Sir John Herbert managed to secure my signature on that fraudlent document called my letter of resignation" Mr. Fazlul Huq said that when His Excellency asked him for his resignation on March 28 this year, after being summoned to Government House, he vehemently but respectfully protested. The Governor told Mr. Huq that he wanted his resignation as he (Mr. Huq) had made statements in the House that he would be prepared to tender resignation in order to facilitate the formation of an All-Parties Cabinet. "I said that I still adhered to that position but that is no reason why I should resign without being satisfied about the fulfilment of the conditions for an all-Parties Ministry. He however insisted on my tendering resignation then and there, and in order to clinch the matter, he brought out a typed piece of paper purporting to be my letter of resignation to the Governor. explained to him that if I tendered my resignaton at that stage, the Budget demands would remain unfinished and the Finance Bill also would be sabotaged. But the Governor was still insisting on my signature. I then asked for time to consult my colleagues and my party. But the Governor was obdurate and refused my request. He was determined to have my signature then and there. I still resisted. Upon this the Governor slightly changed his front and assured me that no effect would be given to the letter of resignation immediately, but that he would keep it with himself to be shown to party leaders in case there was the possibility of an all-Parties Cabinet. Upon this assurance given by the Governor, that the letter of resignation would not be made effective unless actually required for the purpose of the formation of an all-Parties Cabinet, I signed that letter and handed it over to the Governor. I again reminded him that it was not meant to be treated as a letter of resignation and that no effect should be given to it unless the circumstances arose for which I had consented to sign that previously drafted piece of paper."

Concluding, Mr. Fazlul Huq said: "I have made certain definite allegations against His Excellency the Governor. I have charged Him with partisanship and violation of his instrument of instructions. The charges are either true and correct, or false and incorrect. The public have a right to know whether His Excellency accepts my allegations as true and correct or otherwise. His Excellency is not without his remedy. Apart from issuing Government communiques or press notes His Excellency the Governor has the right to address the House and let the members know his version of the various incidents to which I have referred in my statement. The points raised are of the utmost constitutional importance and His Excellency would be extremely ill-advised if he allows the public to draw their own conclusions from his studied silence."

After Mr. Fazlul Huq had concluded his statement three of his colleagues in the last Cabinet, Messrs. Santosh Kumar Basu, Pramatha Nath Banerjee and Shamsuddin Ahmed made separate statements in explanation of their resignation.—A. P.

Sikorski Killed

Tragic Mishap To Polish Premier

LONDON, July 5.

THE POLISH PRIME MINISTER, GEN. SIKORSKI HAS BEEN KILLED.

GEN. SIKORSKI'S ONLY DAUGHTER WAS KILLED WITH HIM. GEN. SIKORSKI WAS KILLED LAST NIGHT, ACCORDING TO AN AIR MINISTRY COMMUNIQUE, WHEN "LIBERATOR" BOMBER CRASHED WHEN TAKING OFF FROM GIBRALTAR.

Announcing the tragic death of the Polish Prime Minister Gen. Sikorski, the Polish Ministry of Information says: "The Polish Government have received news that an accident has occurred during the journey of the Polish Prime Minister and Commander-in-Chief, Gen. Sikorski.

BIG DEATH ROLL

It is announced that besides Gen. Sikorski, Maj.-Gen. Klimecki Maj. Cazalet and Gen. Sikorski's daughter, the passengers on the crashed plane comprised M. Kulakowski, Col. Marecki, Lt. Pobiewski and Col. Gralewski.—CHIEF OF STAFF ALSO KILLED

A communique issued in London says "The Air Ministry deeply regrets to announce that Gen. Sikorski was killed last night when a "Liberator" aircraft in which he was travelling crashed shortly after taking off from Gibraltar. The General was accompanied by Maj.-Gen. Klimecki and other members of his staff. The only surveyor of the accident is the pilot, who was seriously injured and is now in hospital."

Gen. Klimecki who was killed with Gen. Sikorski was Chief of Staff of the Polish armed forces. He had been touring the Near East with Gen. Sikorski since last April.

Maj. Victor Cazalet member of Parliament and political liaison officer to Gen. Sikorski who had been accompanying the Polish Prime Minister's party was also killed.

SIKORSKI'S SUCCESSOR

The Polish President M. Vladyslav Raczkiewcz has asked the Deputy Premier M. Stanislaw Mikolajczyk to maintain the duties of Prime Minister for the time being. Gen. Marian Kukiel, War Minister, will act as Commander-in-Chief.

17 MISSING

Adam Kulakowski one of the dead passengers was Private Secretary to Gen. Sikorski. Lt. Poblewski was his Aide-de-camp.

The pilot was a Czech, and the crew of the plane numbered six which makes the number missing 17.

At the moment the Polish Government are in special session".

A later official statement says: "At a meeting of the Polish Government the President of the Polish Republic who is in the chair and the Cabinet is considering the situation created by Gen. Sikorski's death. As recently as June 29 Gen. Sikorski was engaged in a series of military and political talks in Cairo."

PREMIER'S TRIBUTE TO SIKORSKI

LONDON, July 5.—The Polish President, M. Wladzslaw Raczkiewicz broadcast a message to the Polish nation from London today in the course of which he paid a weed of praise to the work of Gen. Sikorski who fell "in the fight for freedom" and appealed all to be united to win victory for Poland.

Great Soldier-Statesman

SIKORSKI'S REMARKABLE CAREER

By the tragic death of Gen. Ladislaus Sikorski (aged 62) Poland, has lost one of her greatest sons and a national leader. As soldier, statesman and author he achieved equal distinction in all three fields. As Commander of the Polish army during the war with Russia in 1920 he won military fame by his brilliant tactics in resisting the Red Army's invasion. He became chief of the Polish General Staff and in 1922 assumed the Premiership at a time when Poland faced many internal and external troubles. Within four years he changed the whole Polish situation by his domestic and foreign policy. Thereafter he retired to private life but returned to power in 1939 after Poland's collapse in the face of the combined German and Russian invasions.

Displaying tireless energy in the organization of the Polish forces to fight with the Allies, Gen. Sikorski thrice visited America at President Roosevelt's invitation. After the last visit in November, 1942, he went to Mexico to discuss plans for settling Polish refugees there. He also paid several visits to the Middle East to inspect Polish troops and went to Moscow for conversations with M. Stalin at the end of 1941.

Unlike some of the Allied war time Governments Gen. Sikorski became Prime Minister in a perfectly normal manner. After escaping from Poland in September he proceeded to Paris where President Raczkiewcha appointed him to form the New Government to replace that which resigned after the Polish military collapse. Before the war he lived in retirement as his political views were not sufficiently orthodox for the Beck regime.

PUT COUNTRY BEFORE PARTY

When war was declared, however, as a patriotic Pole putting country before party he put on his uniform and volunteered for duty. He was not given command of any forces in the field, but given a post on the General Staff. He was among the first to realise the necessity of foregetting the past when Germany attacked Russia and eagerly grasped the hand held out to him by M. Stalin. He concluded an agreement with Soviet Russia shortly after the German invasion and followed that with a prolonged journey to Russia during which he had long talks with M. Stalin and concluded arrangements for the formation of a Polish Army in Russia, and for the relief of the Polish civilian population who had taken refuge in Russia. Unfortunately difficulties arose in Polish-Soviet relations and normal diplomatic exchanges between the two countries were eventually suspended. His visits to Russia left upon him a profound conviction of Russia's military might and the determination to wage war to the uttermost.—Reuter.

DUCE FLOGS DEAD HORSE

Urges Italians To Hold Out

LONDON, July 5.

The Rome radio to-day broadcast a report of a speech by Mussolini to the Fascist Party Directorate on June 24 in which he warned against believing "enemy promises" adding "capitulation would mean for Italy shame, adding disarmament and destruction of her industries. To doubters we must say that this war has possibilities of development that cannot be foreseen There are possibilities in the politica sphere, but not in the political sphere alone, which are now proceeding towards maturity.

"The Italian people know that this war is a war of life and death. Our people may rest assured that an enemy attempt to land would be met with all weapons with iron hand and with unswerving determination. We must hold out. That is a commitment of honour."

Mussolini further declared: 'Either we win this war, as I firmly believe, in common with our comrades of the Axis and of the Three-Power Pact, or Italy will receive a shameful peace and will sink to the level of a fourth or fifth class power."—Reuter.

Discussing a nine point programme put forward by the Fascist Directorate Mussolini said: "All attempts to weaken the moral or material strength of the people must be suppressed. Where the laws are not generous enough we must introduce new ones. I absolutely endorse the decisions of the Directorate demanding stern measures against all those who endanger the moral unity of the nation.

The opposition will never succeed in overthrowing the regime.

I also endorse the demand of the Directorate for greater discipline in industry and agriculture.

CONSCRIPTION OF JEWS

I concur with the demand of the Fascist Directorate for energetic measures in the field of Labour conscription. Much remains to be done in this direction, especially as regards conscription of Jews During the strikes which occurred here and there in March no one ever succeeded in making a political issue of that. Calls to demonstrate in the streets spread secretly were not obeyed by a single worker."

IN CASE OF INVASION

"We have to distinguish between a landing which is possible, penetration and finally invasion. If this attempt fails, as I am convinced it will, the enemy will have no other triumph in his hand to beat the tri-partite Powers. If the enemy attempts to land the people must range themselves along the shores. If by chance the enemy should penetrate, the reserves which are available will pounce upon them and annihilate them to the last man."—Reuter.

"PARTY OF M...SES"

The speech followed a recent report to Sgr. Mussolini by the Fascist Party Secretary, Carrio Secorza. Referring to the recent purge, Mussolini said "even after the purge the Fascist Party remains the party of the masses." He said that there had been wrong interpretations of Sgr. Scorza's report. "Men have committed errors in the past, and we shall speak about this later but these errors were always committed in good faith."

Warning his listeners against trying to find a scapegoat for everything in the bureaucracy, Sgr. Mussolini said: "Drastic measures will be taken against the black market. Luxury restaurants and all institutions of luxury will be closed."

THE ISSUE BEFORE ITALY

Referring to the necessity of holding out, the Duce declared: "The winning of a victorious peace is the issue—peace that after 30 years of continuous war would give Italy the means of fulfilling her historic task which would keep her employed for the rest of the century."

Reds Repulse Enemy Attacks, Sink Transport

MOSCOW, July 5.

Sunday night's "communique" states, "During July 4 no material changes took place at the front.

During the week ended third July 66 German aircraft were destroyed in aircombat and by our ground defences. Our losses in the same period were 18.

One enemy transport was sunk by our aircraft in the Barentz sea".

A supplement states, "During the night of July 2 our long-range aircraft carried out raids on the ports of Temryuk and Kerch.

Enemy transports and self-propelling landing barges in the port of Temryuk were particularly heavily bombed. Large fires were observed by our crews. Several enemy ships were sunk by direct hits".

The supplement also reports that in a sector of the Kalinin front the Germans made a fresh attempt to regain a height occupied by Soviet at the end of June.

Attacking after strong artillery and mortar preparations they were met with fire from all types of weapons and compelled to retreat.

Making yet another attack they were thrown back with heavy losses, more than 800 Germans being killed.

Guerillas in the Voronezh region derailed a German military train from the wreckage of which 256 dead and wounded Germans were dug out. Traffic was suspended for several days. —Reuter.

WANTED NATIONAL ARMY

In his message to the armed forces in the India Command Sir Claude Auchinleck says "that we are still facing the threat from Japan and that this threat will continue until the Japanese are driven back whence they came." At the same time he pays a chivalrous tribute to them saying that they are "hard and determined fighters and always ready to die for their country." Indians, too, have always been determined to defend their country against Japan and have always realised that it is no easy job and calls for extraordinary measures in India to make her soldiers equally determined to fight and die for their country. The first and foremost essential is that the status of Indian Army must be what the status of the British or the American or the Russian or the Chinese or the Japanese Army is in its own country. The Indian Army must be predominantly, if not wholly, national and must be under a wholly National Government. It is not enough that the rank and file in the Defence forces are predominantly Indian. The Officers in all the Defence Departments must be predominantly Indian without the slightest trace of discrimination against them. Mr. Amery himself, while welcoming a number of Indian Air Force Officers who had arrived in London last week for "operational experience," truly remarked that India needs to be "defended not only by her army but by her navy and by her air force and her own resources."

Unfortunately, however, the actual state of things is far from what it should be and can be. In the first place the strength of the Navy and the Air Force in India, more than that of the Army, is still utterly inadequate, considering the vastness of the country and the military responsibilities imposed upon it by the exigencies of the present war. We have often been told that the Indian Navy and Air Force have expanded so many times or by such and such per cent, but even the Legislature that voted supplies liberally has not been told the exact strength of the various departments of Defence. It can, however, be inferred from a variety of facts that the strength is not adequate. The inadequacy is particularly conspicuous in the number of Indian officers. If Government refuse to publish the exact number of Indian officers, they ought to publish at least the percentage of Indian officers in the different Departments and the different grades. If these figures are published they will be found most disappointing, particularly in the Navy and the Air Force.

What is this due to? It is ridiculous to suggest now, after all that is known to the world about the wonderful achievements of Indian Officers and troops in Africa, and elsewhere that Indian officers are lacking in the capacity to lead or otherwise are not efficient enough. It is even more ridiculous to suggest that Indian troops prefer British Officers. If, as a legacy of the past, liberal recruitment of Indian officers came only after the commencement of the war, ample amends could have been made during the last four years of the war. But the fact is that even now only lip homage is given to the principle of Indianising all the officers' grades. Fewer Indians are recruited as Officers than can be recruited. Racial discrimination against Indians pursues them even after recruitment. Pandit Hridaynath Kunzru, who, as a member of the Defence Consultative Committee, is well informed on this subject, has often stated even in the Legislature that racial discrimination is rampant in the Army and prevents a larger number of Indians seeking emergency commissions. Not a few senior officers trained at Sandhurst are believed to have prematurely retired because of discrimination against them in respect of promotions. There are many other things that are sadly wrong in the Defence Department. We trust the new Viceroy and the new Commander-in-Chief will mend many of these administrative defects. But we must repeat what we have said above that Indians can fight the Japanese with that determination to fight and die for their country with which, Sir Claude reminds us, the Japanese themselves are fighting for their country; but they can do so only when they, too, have a National Army under a National Government.

Eastern Mediterranean

According to a Cairo report, German troops have occupied the coastal stretch of the Greek Thrace and towns on the Turkish frontiers, a zone formerly controlled by Bulgarian troops. This does not indicate any intention on the part of the Germans to make some suicidally aggressive move against Turkey. But it does mean that the Germans seriously fear an Allied invasion in the Eastern Mediterranean and have, therefore, decided themselves to take over the defence of the whole of Greece and not Crete and Southern Greece only. The fear, whether deliberately engendered by the Allies as part of a nerve war or otherwise, is justified, too. For, there have, of late, been a number of highly suggestive indications in that direction.

The Allies have been concentrating a significantly big force in the Middle East under General Wilson. Similarly significant have been the activities of the Admiral Commanding the newly formed British Levant Fleet and the sudden closing for a brief period of the Turko-Syrian frontier. Then also there is the announcement by General Wilson that Greek guerrillas are actually operating under the direction of the Middle East command. And, finally, General Wilson's announcement has just been followed by an encouraging message which King George has broadcast to the Greek people. All this points to the possibility of an early invasion move in the Eastern Mediterranean. But is this to be the main Allied effort to the exclusion of operations elsewhere, for the present? A Reuter's cable from Washington attributes such an opinion to military observers. But this is not what the Russians have been demanding. And, indeed, it is not what Mr. Churchill has promised to do "before the leaves of autumn fall."

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Welcome If True

An Istanbul message says that General Mihailovitch's guerrilla forces, called the Chetniks or Yugoslav "Patriots", are reported to have beaten back the attacks of ten Axis divisions. Germans, Italians and Bulgarians supported by dive-bombers had, according to these reports, gone all out to annihilate the Chetniks. But they failed with heavy loss, and Mihailovitch successfully evading encirclement south of Moravia counter-attacked and forced the enemy to withdraw. If all this is correct the success of Mihailovitch is highly welcome and not so much because it constitutes a local defeat of the Axis. For a good many months now the Yugoslav guerrilla forces had been split up into General Mihailovitch's "Patriots" and communist led "Partisans" involving them into a particularly deplorable sort of civil war. Each had also been hurling accusations against the other, the latter even denouncing Mihailovitch as having come to an understanding with the Axis, an allegation which the Yugoslav Government failed to rebut satisfactorily. The Istanbul reports, therefore—if correct—re-establish the bona fides of General Mihailovitch which may lead to unity between the two mutually warring groups: a consummation both urgent and very much to be desired.

Air Superiority

It is good news to be told by Mr. Oliver Lyttleton that the war production of "the British Commonwealth" now exceeds that of Germany and German-occupied countries." And it is even better news as given out by the air correspondent of a British paper that German losses in June exceeded the input of new aircraft for the Luftwaffe. With mounting Allied production—American, British and Russian—on the one hand and mounting enemy losses the United Nations can presently overwhelm both the Axis and Japan in the air. But this does not mean, as the correspondent enthusiastically tells the world, that the Luftwaffe faces imminent "extinction." This is mere self-delusion and silly.

MISSES PANDITS IN LOS ANGELES

MOOSSOORI, July 5.

Kumari Chandralekha and Kumari Nayantara Pandit, daughters of Mr. R. S. and Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, have arrived in Los Angeles, U. S. A., according to a cablegram received by Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit.—A. P.

POONA JOURNALISTS' DEMANDS

POONA, July 5.

A resolution welcoming the move taken by Sir Sultan Ahmed, Information Member, Government of India, in constituting Advisory Committees, with a view to associate public opinion with the working of the Information and Broadcasting Departments and strongly urging the Honourable Member to give adequate representation to the Marathi Press, on the proposed Publicity Advisory Board, was passed at a meeting of the Poona Journalists' Association, held under the presidentship of Mr. J. S. Karandikar, editor "Kesari."

By another resolution, the Association requested the Standing Committee of the Newspaper Editors' Conference to consider the situation arising out of the restrictions imposed by the Government of India, on the publication of Mr. Louis Fisher's articles.

A resolution congratulating Mr. Devadas Gandhi Managing Editor, "Hindustan Times", Delhi, on his success in the appeal preferred in the Privy Council against the decision of the Allahabad High Court in the contempt of court case, was also passed.—A. P.

Appeals Galore Against Special Courts' Convictions

NEW DELHI, July 5.

Over fifty appeals were filed to-day in the court of District and Sessions Judge of Delhi against convictions arising out of the cases tried under the Special Courts Ordinance.

Among the appellants is Mr. Krishnan Nair of the Narela Gandhi Ashram.

Sardar Raghbir Singh, Advocate, filed three appeals on Saturday on behalf of Rajendra Singh who had been convicted on three different counts, for incendiarism and cutting of telegraph wires.

FOUR CONSTABLES ON TRIAL

The hearing of the case against four sepoys of the Special Armed Constabulary, who are being charged in connection with the shooting of three boys near the Jumna Bridge, during the last disturbances began to-day in the court of the District and Sessions Judge, Delhi.

"HABEAS CORPUS" CASES

LAHORE, July 5.

On a "Habeas Corpus" petition filed by Malik Jeewanlal Kapur, Advocate, a division Bench of the Lahore High Court consisting of the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Tejasingh passed an order to-day for the release on bail of Niranjanlal of Delhi who had been sentenced to two years' R. I. by special Magistrate, Delhi, in connection with last year's disturbances.

Niranjanlal's appeal is pending before the Sessions Judge, Delhi.

A 'Habeas Corpus" petition was moved to-day before Mr. Justice Blacker of the Lahore High Court against the detention of Hakim Azizur Rehman, an Ahrar worker of Delhi, who is undergoing two years' imprisonment in connection with the Congress disturbances.

His Lordship admitted the petition and issued notice to the Crown.

Naokhali's Ramendra Sen, said to be a Congress worker of North Baraiya, P S Chhagalnaiya, has, it is learnt, been arrested under Rule 129 of D. I. R. and detained as security prisoner.

TRAVANCORE BAN ON "SANGHARSH KYON"

TRIVANDRUM:—The Government of Travancore have prohibited the bringing into Travancore of the pamphlet in Hindi entitled 'Sangharsh Kyon' published by the Dictator, Marwar Lok Parishad, Jodhpur, and printed by Pannalal Gupta Anant at the Adarsh Press, Ajmer.

INDORE RELEASES

INDORE, July 2.

A correspondent writes:—

Messrs. Shankerlal Kuchamania and Nandlal Vyas, Praja Mandal workers, who had been arrested in September last for offering Satyagraha, have been released after completing their term of sentence.

Mr. Kalyanmal Lakhotia, a prominent Congress and Praja Mandal worker has been released on parole for a month due to his wife's illness. Mr. Kanahialal Paramhans has also been granted a month's parole for domestic reasons. Both these workers are detained since August last.

NO SETTLEMENT WITHOUT CONGRESS

Cawnpore Hindu Sabha Against Coalition Ministry

LUCKNOW, July 5.

"The first necessary step to restore peaceful conditions in the country is that all political prisoners must at once be released", declares a resolution adopted at a meeting of the Working Committee of the Agra Provincial Hindu Sabha held at Cawnpore yesterday.

The resolution adds that without the co-operation of the Congress no settlement of the Indian political deadlock is possible, which must be secured without any further delay to end the growing sense of frustration, bitterness and resentment against the British Government.

The Committee expressed the opinion that the setting up of Minority Coalition Ministry would be no solution of the present difficulties or of the Indian political deadlock and would be a fraud upon the Constitution and against all constitutional practice.

Finally the meeting deplored "that coercive methods are being used in the realisation of voluntary subscriptions" and called upon the Government to see that no coercive methods were employed in realising War Fund contributions from the public which must be based on free goodwill of the people.—A. P.

Indian Merchants' Chamber Plea To Central Govt.

The Committee of the Indian Merchants' Chamber, Bombay, have sent a telegram to the Government of India, Department of Food in the course of which they say:—

"Committee Indian Merchants' Chamber greatly perturbed at reports that Government contemplate withdrawing control on foodgrains from all Provinces in the country excepting three. They are seriously apprehensive that such a decontrolling process will lead to disaster. Having instituted control system in the whole country, it is now too late in the day to withdraw control. It will lead, Committee are afraid to hoarding, to the spiral fight of prices and to practical starvation of poor and middle-class people. The Committee earnestly request Government of India should arrange with surplus provinces to make grain available to Bombay. They learn that supply position of rice in Bombay will be extremely serious in a short time. It is not possible to make people change over from rice to wheat without serious risk to health. Committee therefore urge that rice should be made available from surplus Provinces. Committee also urge that all possible steps should be taken to get wheat from Australia as otherwise food position will become serious.

TWO RATIONING OFFICES IN G. WARD

The Director of Information, Bombay writes:—

In order to facilitate the disposal of applications for ration cards, G Ward Rationing Office is to be split into two offices from July 5. The existing office in the Brahmin Sahayak Mandal premises at Shivaji Park will be known as G Ward (North) Rationing Office. The other G Ward (south) will be located in Gopechar and Bhoye Sansthan Hall, Worli Main Road, opposite Worli Municipal Market.

G Ward (North) Office will deal with applicants from Municipal Sections 33 (Dadar), 34 (Mahim) and 35 (Parbhadevi).

G Ward (South) will deal with applicants residing in Municipal Sections 36 (Worli), 37 (Chinchpokli) and 38 (Love Grove).

G Ward (North) will continue to deal with applications which have been made already, whether from the area under G North or G South. Such applicants should apply to G Ward (North) Office, while new applicants should apply to G Ward (South) if they reside in the Sections under the jurisdiction of G Ward (South).

IMPORT LICENSING AUTHORITIES TO BE REDUCED

A notification published to-day by "Gazette of India" Extraordinary reduces the number of import licensing authorities in India. The Steel Import Controller and the machine tool controller at Calcutta retain existing powers, but import licensing over the remainder of the field is confined to the Chief Controller of Imports at New Delhi assisted by deputies at Calcutta and Bombay and the import trade controllers at the four main ports of Bombay, Calcutta, Karachi and Madras

The change is intended to simplify and expedite licensing procedure generally. In particular under the new arrangements, industries located at or near Calcutta and Bombay will no longer have to refer to New Delhi for licenses covering many of their requirements, as such licenses will be obtainable from the Deputy Chief Controllers of Imports stationed at those centres.—A. Choice Before Muslim Masses

Muthuranga Mudaliar On Jinnah's Latest Stand

MADRAS, July 5.

Mr. C. N. Muthuranga Mudaliar, a former President of the Tamil Nadu Provincial Congress Committee, who was recently released from detention in the course of a statement pays a tribute to Mr. S. Satyamurti and hopes that a fitting memorial will be erected for him in Madras.

Dealing with the political situation he says Mr. Jinnah's latest had established that he did not want a settlement with the Congress. We should realise this and give up the idea of settling with Mr. Jinnah. We did want a Hindu-Muslim settlement. We would certainly deal with the Muslim League, which was the most important Muslim organisation. But this we should do on the basis of freedom for the country.

The Muslim masses of India would have to decide whether they wanted freedom for their country or Mr. Jinnah's leadership.—A. P.

Hahnemann's Anniversary

The second and third day celebrations of Dr. Samuel Hahnemann's centenary were observed in Fellowship School and St. Xavier's School on Saturday and Sunday respectively. On Saturday Sir Chunilal B. Mehta presided when speeches were delivered by well-known homoeopaths on the genius of the late Dr. Samuel Hahnemann, who was the author of 117 books on medical science and who had revolutionised the system of healing by introducing homoeopathy. Dr. Surendranath and his partners of Messrs. Roy and Co., were "At Home" to the guests on Saturday.

On Sunday a Variety Entertainment was held at St. Xavier's High School under the presidency of Lady Rama Rau, which was very much appreciated.

Unity Among Students

Mr. P M Joshi Secretary 'Students' Union Committee writes:—

A provisional committee to bring about the unity among different sections of nationalist students of Bombay has been formed consisting of the following members representing both the students' organisations:—

Mr. Lalit Mohan Jamnadas, (convener), Mr. Lalu Shah, Chandrakant Dalal, P K Kunte, P M Joshi, Anil Mawani, Raja Kulkarni Manu Damani and S. K. Pai.

The Committee will try to bring unity among all the nationalist students, with an ultimate view to bring all the students under one Students' Union. In the meanwhile, it is agreed that all the activities among students should be carried on as far as possible under the above Committee. A Unity Manifesto is being prepared explaining the policy and programme of the abo Committee.

Kerosene Oil

Kerosene oil is one of the important daily needs of the citizens, especially now when the price of coal has gone up to Re. 1/8 per maund and no new electric or gas connection are given. In the suburbs, where no gas is available, people are dependent on coal and kerosene oil. It is advisable in these circumstances that arrangement should be made by Government to supply to the public through the Ration Shops at least one gallon of kerosene oil per month to the card holders, to relieve them of the trouble of waiting in queues in front of the shops for hours during the rains to get the supply of the oil.

Prof. P. A. Wadia

Prof. P. Wadia has been serving on the staff of Wilson College for the last so many years. He is one of the ablest professors in India. A great patriot, a faithful desciple of Gandhiji he has endeared himself to the student world for his setting an example to others by his simple living and high thinking. Now all of a sudden we hear the most unpleasant news that our dearest professor is resigning. We will be losing him as a professor of Logic, Economics and Politics. Though old in age, at least no professor of Wilson College can compete with him as far as teaching abilities are concerned. Why is Prof. Wadia resigning?—For a very very trifling reason. The reason is so trifling that we do not like to publish it. We shall do so on some other occasion. In the meantime we pray and appeal to our worthy principal that whatever happens he should see that a compromise is reached and our Wadiaji placed among us once more as ever.

MEMORIAL MEETING FOR DEAD INDIAN SEAMEN

Welfare League's Move To Provide Facilities To Navy Men In London

(From Our Own Correspondent)

LONDON, July 5.

Dr. Dalton, President of the Board of Trade, Sir S. Ranganathan, the Secretaries of the International Federation of Universities of Women, the British University Labour Federation and representatives of various shipping companies were among those who sent messages to the memorial meeting held in White Chapel, East London, yesterday, to honour Indian seamen who have sacrificed their lives in the War. The meeting held under the presidentship of Mr. Majid Quereshi was organised by the newly formed Indian Seamen's Welfare League whose aim is to provide benefits and comforts for visiting Indian seamen.

HOSTEL FOR SEAMEN

The messages read out at the meeting yesterday expressed the hope that the League would render useful service to Indian seamen during their stay in Britain. The League is an independent organisation which will co-operate with others in establishing a hostel to accommodate five hundred seamen at a time in London area. Other hostels will be started at Cardiff, Glasgow, Liverpool, Southshields, Swansea, Manchester and Burydocks.

The League has applied to Mr. Aftab Ali, President of the All-India Seamen's Union for affiliation.

BRAVE MEN OF THE NAVY

There were 51 Indian seamen belonging to merchant service at yesterday's meeting. They had sailed the seas under the British flag, scrubbed decks, oiled machines, helped to keep convoys moving. In a simple black suit, huddled in a corner, with his shining badge of the merchant navy was Mr. Mahmood Hossain who, in halting English, said to me: "My leg was hurt when I was on a ship in a convoy. I am getting better now. I will sail again."

All thes men could tell tales of heroism at sea but they are too shy to talk. They come and go quietly carrying munitions for armies and food for the Allied Nations. Mr. Majid Quereshi who presided is an ex-seaman. He did fine work during the London blitz, tending the injured and risking his life.

Milk Price In City Shooting Up

The sick, the ailing and the children of Bombay are in grave danger of being deprived of their main source of nourishment due to the abnormal rise in the price of milk.

The price of milk which has kept on rising has now reached a stage, when it is hardly possible for anybody except the rich to buy milk. The prices now quoted vary from ten annas to fourteen annas a seer according to quality.

The Bombay Government had promised some time ago to intervene if the prices went too high due to the increase in the price of fodder. The time has now arisen for the Government to intervene in the matter.

HARWOOD LEAGUE

Y.M.C.A. Badly Mauled By R.A.F.

In the first division of the Harwood League, the Royal Air Force defeated the Y.M.C.A. by 7 goals to 3 on Monday evening at the Cooperage. A heavy shower of rain in the early part of the game made the ground slushly and slippery. The Air Force taking advantage of the situation booked 5 goals in the first half, to which the youngmen replied with a solitary one. Neillam scored three of the goals for the R.A.F.

Talking of Reuters and its great services to India and the cause of the United Nations by omission as much as by commission, it seems to have ignored American Independence Day and particularly the message of General Eisenhower.

And rightly, too. In the first place U. S. HOW TO REGAIN YOUTH?

The wonder is that youth is restored in 7 days, but strict self-control is to be exercised during this period, otherwise the secret of cure is rendered ineffective. So only those should use the medicine who can promise this self-control. A great miracle makes its appearance on the very first day. All that is required is to store it and then for years you will not experience any loss of vigour again. There are two medicines, one for internal consumption and the other for external application. The complete course is known as REJUVINE. The very first dose of internal medicine begins to work wonders as if complete transformation has begun. The medicine for application also shows its miraculous effects from the very first day.

Price complete course Rs. 5/-.
Postage -/11/- extra.

This course will be sent to those who promise to exercise complete self-control.

CITY MARKETS

BOMBAY, Monday.

SHARES:—The recent action of the local Stock Exchange displays a feeling of hesitancy and prices fluctuate within a very narrow range. There is more inclination to await final outcome of the cloth and yarn control, so that one may be able to have an idea about prospective earnings of cotton mills. In the meantime that most of the mills have booked bumper profits for the year. This is true to some extent but operators are not inclined to increase risks pending Government action on Budlas. However Public Utility and Bank Shares remain very steady on investment demand where a yield of about 3-1/2 per cent. is considered satisfactory. Cotton Mill Shares which are very favourite among speculators failed to show any marked price movement. The market being narrow, the volume of busines is decreasing and we are having uninteresting markets. At the moment both bulls and bears are watching developments. A small rise is attracting realising sales while a decline of few points is inducing short covering. This means the long-range outlook remains uncertain. Tata Steel Dfd. Shares opened to-day at Rs. 2,065 and sagged to Rs. 2,057 while Ordinary Shares were quoted at Rs. 414. Bombay Dyeings opened at Rs. 2,045 and declined to Rs. 2,032. Century Mill Shares were quoted at Rs. 834 and Kohinoors stood at Rs. 845. The market was quietly steady

The Securities market was very steady and 3 1/2 per cent paper quotation and was raised to Rs. 95. Other Securities are expected to harden.

BULLION:—After a brief period of steady tone, the local Bullion Market again assumed sagging tendency with increased offerings. There was a marked absence of demand and the general feeling is somewhat uncertain. London and New York quotations continue unchanged. Local quotations were, ready Silver Rs. 121 Forward Rs. 120-4, Ready Gold Rs. 80-8, Forward Rs. 80-4. Sovereigns Rs. 56-12. Tone quiet.

Later on there was increased liquidation and quotations were depressed. Ready Silver Rs. 119-4, Forward Rs. 118-4, Ready Gold Rs. 78-12, Forward Rs. 78-6 and Sovereigns Rs. 56-8.

SEEDS:—The local Seeds Market was quiet to-day with little demand. Ready stocks are limited and mills are buying only their urgent needs. Ready groundnuts bold are quoted at Rs. 102-8 and Khandesh quality at Rs. 106-8, Linseed ready is quoted at Rs. 16.

The Half-Column
By "Dim"

The American Magazine TIME commented as follows on Gandhi's fast: "..... Between Gandhi's will and that of the Viceroy, the final clash had come. Like a Greek tragedy the action moved inexorably towards the climax. A frail little bag of bones had decided he would drink only fruit juice for three weeks, and the whole British Empire quivered. A world that uses and more than half-believes in force watched the struggle with divided sympathies and a strange sense of shame."

* * *

TIME says elsewhere that the idea of a fast "as the only effective weapon left to Gandhi's battered Congress party" was to Sir Reginald Maxwell "repugnant to Western ideas of decency."

* * *

There is much else in that TIME report which makes delightful reading, but would make uncomfortable reproduction. Ask someone on the staff of a newspaper what TIME had to say. Failing which you can, of course, always try the U. S. Office of War Information! Sez you!

* * *

Sir John Colville is striking an informal note, reminiscent of the late Lord Brabourne. Last evening as I strained my neck at the close of the Concert at the C. J. Hall I saw him among the thousand odd listeners. He hadn't unrolled red carpet. He didn't hold up the audience. He went out in his turn, much to the amazement of a number of the titled gentry, who are not accustomed to so much 'democratization' of the Raj. But then Colville comes from the front line of a Britain at war.

USE A GODREJ SOAP FOR SHAVING TOO!

An elaborate manufacturing process, meticulous blending of the various ingredients, the testing and selection of pure vegetable oils (exclusively used in Godrej toiletries) are characteristic of Godrej shaving soaps, as of Godrej toilet soaps.—The emollient Vegetable Oil Lather—devoid of even a trace of irritating free-alkali—will have a two-fold tonic effect on the skin: prepare the ground for a smooth, easy shave to the toughest of growths, and, secondly, give a soothing after-shave feeling to even sensitive skins. And you don't have to lather often, because the profuse, creamy lather stays on firm and saves time. Use a Godrej soap—Stick or Round—for shaving, too, and keep your face well-groomed, just as you keep your skin clean and healthy with one or other of the Godrej Vegetable Toilet Soaps.
